

1.0 INTRODUCTION

Volumes IV and V of the 2003 UC Davis Long Range Development Plan (2003 LRDP) Final Environmental Impact Report (EIR) are organized as follows:

- Section 1, Introduction. Provides an overview of the manner in which Volumes IV and V are organized.
- Section 2, Project Refinements. Describes refinements made to the proposed 2003 LRDP and associated projects since the publication of the Draft EIR, and presents additional information that became available during the circulation of the Draft EIR. It also presents an assessment of impacts from these changes and concludes that the changes would not result in new significant impacts or increase the severity of impacts previously identified in the Draft EIR. These changes are also incorporated into the responses to comments and into the revised Draft EIR (Volumes I, II, and III).
- Section 3, Changes to the Draft EIR. Consists of excerpts from the Draft EIR, marked with explanations of all substantive changes that have been incorporated into the Final EIR. This section is provided so that readers may readily review adjustments that have been made to the project and the analysis since publication of the Draft EIR.
- Section 4, Response to Comments. Includes a list of all agencies, organizations and individuals that submitted comments on the Draft EIR during the public review period. This section also includes the comment letters followed by responses to written comments, and transcripts from public hearings and responses to verbal comments received at the hearings. Each letter/transcript and each comment within a letter/transcript has been numbered. Responses are assigned corresponding numbers. Where appropriate, responses are cross-referenced. In addition to individual responses to each comment received, master responses are provided where multiple comments were submitted on a single topic.
